

Dear Gerald

We are alarmed (unless most reassuring details are added, I shall follow his letter.

Lilly & important because not Art; the news, not the ^Skid. You sketch in blood. I have taken & reproduced for my 'Rosa Bonheur'

Editing - - - - - see enclosed.

Drafting finished; I feel a free man. Good luck on settlement, & the press it shall go!

Thanks for all your kind worry re Inwood. R. x

N. M. A. H. S. I. L. C. are well, Mum by so.

Her address is not difficult: Lady Boleskine

Torquay N. B. gives her without fail. Why not be content with 'dear Edmund Hand' and

Dear Gerald

We are alarmed, unless most reassuring details
are wired, I shall follow this letter.

Silly & impertinent because not Art; the news, not the kid. Your sketch in Lord-Lions blame taken & reproduced for my 'Rome Memoirs'

Editing - - - - - see enclosed.

Drafting finished; I feel a free man. Good luck
or indifferent, the press it shall go.

Thanks for all your kind worry re Inwood. R.

N. M. A. H. S. I. L. C. are well, thank by you.

Her address is not difficult: Lady Boleskine

Torquay N.B. gradually without fail. Why not be content with 'Dear Edmund and Gerald' and

Dear Gerald

We are alarmed (I think) most reassuring to find we are not. I will follow his letter.

Lilly is in a hurry because not. As to the news, not the best. Your sketch for the book I have taken & reproduced for my own private

Editing - I hope - See enclosed.

Copy finished; feel a free man. Good book on the subject, I hope it shall go.

Thanks for all your kind worry re Inwood. R.

N. A. A. H. S. L. C. are well, many thanks.

Her address is not difficult: Lady Boleskine

Tray N. B. give your address. Why not be content with the same and hand, and

Dear Gerald

We are alarmed (unless most reassuring. At Paul, are varied; I will follow his letter.

Lilly & infantment because not Art; the news, not the ^S kid. You sketch for blood-Clas I have taken & reproduced for my 'Rosa Maudie'

Eating - letter - see enclosed, Copy finished; I feel a free man. I wish to a different, the press it shall go!

Thanks for all your kind worry re. Iwood. R & N. M. A. H. S. I. L. C. are well, thank you.
Her address is not difficult: Lady Boleskine, Foyers N. B. I wish her without fail. Why not be content with 'dear friend and aunt', and

Dear Gerald

We are alarmed unless most reassuring details
are wired; I shall follow this letter.

Silly & ineffectual because not Art; the news, not the ^Skid. You sketch for blood-letting

I have taken & reproduced for my 'Rosa Brandi'

Editing - Letter - see enclosed,

Copied, finished; I feel a free man. Good-bye or indifferent, the press it shall go!

Thanks for all your kind worry re. Iwood. R.

N. M. A. H. S. I. L. C. are well, than by so.

Her address is not difficult: Lady Boleskine.

Forgive N. B. Grindher without fail. Why not be content with 'dear friend and Kant', and

Letters and Telegrams: BOLESKINE FOYERS is sufficient address
Bills, Writs, Summonses, etc.: CAMP XI, THE BALTORO GLACIER, BALTISTAN

O Millionaire!
Mr. Editor!
Dear Mrs. Eddy,
Your Holiness the Pope!
Your Imperial Majesty!
Your Majesty!
Your Royal Highness!
Dear Miss Corelli,
Your Serene Highness!
My lord Cardinal,
My lord Archbishop,
My lord Duke,

My lord Marquis!
My lord Viscount,
My lord Earl,
My lord,
My lord bishop,
Reverend sir,
Sir,
Fellow,
Dog! /
Mr. Congressman,
Mr. Senator,
Mr. President,

(or the feminine of any of these), as shown by underlining it,

Courtesy demands, in view of the

- (a) tribute to your genius
- (b) attack on your (1) political
 - (2) moral
 - (3) social
 - (4) mental
 - (5) physicalcharacter
- (c) homage to your grandeur
- (d) reference to your conduct
- (e) appeal to your better feelings

on page of my masterpiece, "The Sword of Song," that I should send you a copy, as I do herewith, to give you an opportunity of defending yourself against my monstrous assertions, thanking me for the advertisement, or — in short, replying as may best seem to you to suit the case. I may add that there can be only one opinion as to part of your duty, i.e., you ought to subscribe to the Society for the Propagation of Religious Truth,¹ and thus aid its noble efforts to get a little sense into the average British or American brain.

Your humble, obedient servant,

ALEISTER CROWLEY.

¹ By whom "The Sword of Song" is published.

Letters and Telegrams: BOLESKINE FOYERS is sufficient address
Bills, Writs, Summonses, etc.: CAMP XI, THE BALTORO GLACIER, BALTISTAN

O Millionaire!

Mr. Editor!

Dear Mrs. Eddy,

Your Holiness the Pope!

Your Imperial Majesty!

Your Majesty!

Your Royal Highness!

Dear Miss Corelli,

Your Serene Highness!

My lord Cardinal,

My lord Archbishop,

My lord Duke,

My lord Marquis!

My lord Viscount,

My lord Earl,

My lord,

My lord bishop,

Reverend sir,

Sir,

Fellow,

Dég!

Mr. Congressman,

Mr. Senator,

Mr. President,

(or the feminine of any of these), as shown by underlining it,

Courtesy demands, in view of the

(a) tribute to your genius

(b) attack on your (1) political

(2) moral

(3) social

(4) mental

(5) physical character

(c) homage to your grandeur

(d) reference to your conduct

(e) appeal to your better feelings

on page of my masterpiece, "The Sword of Song," that I should send you a copy, as I do herewith, to give you an opportunity of defending yourself against my monstrous assertions, thanking me for the advertisement, or — in short, replying as may best seem to you to suit the case. I may add that there can be only one opinion as to part of your duty, i.e., you ought to subscribe to the Society for the Propagation of Religious Truth,¹ and thus aid its noble efforts to get a little sense into the average British or American brain.

Your humble, obedient servant,

ALEISTER CROWLEY.

¹ By whom "The Sword of Song" is published.

Letters and Telegrams: BOLESKINE
Bills, Writs, Summonses, etc.: CAMP XI, THE

O Millionaire!

Mr. Editor!

Dear Mrs. Eddy,

Your Holiness the Pope!

Your Imperial Majesty!

Your Majesty!

Your Royal Highness!

Dear Miss Corelli,

Your Serene Highness!

My lord Cardinal,

My lord Archbishop,

My lord Duke,

(or the feminine of any of these),

Courtesy demands, in view of the

(a) tribute to your genius

(b) attack on your (1) political

(2) moral

(3) social

(4) mental

(5) physical

charac

(c) homage to your grandeur

(d) reference to your conduct

(e) appeal to your better feelings

on page of my masterpiece, "The

By compliments to Pierrehen Sparrows; and my girls heads, please? Also yours.

Letters and Telegrams: BOLESKINE
Bills, Writs, Summonses, etc.: CAMP XI, THE

O Millionaire!

Mr. Editor!

Dear Mrs. Eddy,

Your Holiness the Pope!

Your Imperial Majesty!

Your Majesty!

Your Royal Highness!

Dear Miss Corelli,

Your Serene Highness!

My lord Cardinal,

My lord Archbishop,

My lord Duke,

(or the feminine of any of these),

Courtesy demands, in view of the

(a) tribute to your genius

(b) attack on your (1) political

(2) moral

(3) social

(4) mental

(5) physical

charac

(c) homage to your grandeur

(d) reference to your conduct

(e) appeal to your better feelings

on page of my masterpiece, "The

My compliments to Pierbina Stanislaw; and my girls' heads, please? Also yours.

Your Serene Highness!

My lord Cardinal,

My lord Archbishop,

My lord Duke,

(for the feminine of any of these), a

Courtesy demands, in view of the

(a) tribute to your genius

(b) attack on your (1) political

(2) moral

(3) social

(4) mental

(5) physical charac

(c) homage to your grandeur

(d) reference to your conduct

(e) appeal to your better feelings

on page of my masterpiece, "The
a copy, as I do herewith, to give you an oppor
monstrous assertions, thanking me for the adv
may best seem to you to suit the case. I may as to part of your duty, i.e., you ought to subscri
Religious Truth,¹ and thus aid its noble effor British or American brain.

Your

¹ By whom "The Sword of

Why Stirlings; and when may I have ask? Also yours you Stirlings

Your Serene Highness!

My lord Cardinal,

My lord Archbishop,

My lord Duke,

(or the feminine of any of these), a

Courtesy demands, in view of the

(a) tribute to your genius

(b) attack on your (1) political

(2) moral

(3) social

(4) mental

(5) physical charac

(c) homage to your grandeur

(d) reference to your conduct

(e) appeal to your better feelings

on page of my masterpiece, "The
a copy, as I do herewith, to give you an oppor
monstrous assertions, thanking me for the adv
may best seem to you to suit the case. I may
as to part of your duty, i.e., you ought to subscri
Religious Truth,¹ and thus aid its noble effor British or American brain.

Your

¹ By whom "The Sword of

in my Specialties; and when may I have ask? Also yours Yr. S. L. C. S.

Do:
Mr. Congressman,
Mr. Senator,
Mr. President,
these), as shown by underlining it,

character

, "The Sword of Song," that I should send you opportunity of defending yourself against my advertisement, or — in short, replying as I may add that there can be only one opinion subscribe to the Society for the Propagation of efforts to get a little sense into the average

Your humble, obedient servant,

ALEISTER CROWLEY.

ord of Song" is published.

admit that he does every one did it, would
Even on the lowest ground, that there is no gain and have done, we may yet say that if we we should have no more subscriptions.

Dog!

Mr. Congressman,
Mr. Senator,
Mr. President,

(these), as shown by underlining it,

character

, "The Sword of Song," that I should send you
opportunity of defending yourself against my
advertisement, or — in short, replying as
I may add that there can be only one opinion
subscribe to the Society for the Propagation of
efforts to get a little sense into the average

Your humble, obedient servant,

ALEISTER CROWLEY.

"Sword of Song" is published.

admit that he does
everyone did it, would

Even on the lowest ground, that there is no gain
and have done, we may yet say that if we
we should have no more subscriptions.

SKINE FOYERS is sufficient address
I, THE BALTORO GLACIER, BALTISTAN

My lord Marquis!

My lord Viscount,

My lord Earl,

My lord,

My lord bishop,

Reverend sir,

Sir,

Fellow,

Dog!

Mr. Congressman,

Mr. Senator,

Mr. President,

nese), as shown by underlining it,

character

don't. That he does right who does what, if anyone did it, would benefit humanity? -
That there is no ground, which I can disprove, say that if everyone had a plume, subscriptions to the Daily Mail. (B)

SKINE FOYERS is sufficient address
I, THE BALTORO GLACIER, BALTISTAN

My lord Marquis!

My lord Viscount,

My lord Earl,

My lord,

My lord bishop,

Reverend sir,

Sir,

Fellow,

Dog!

Mr. Congressman,

Mr. Senator,

Mr. President,

nese), as shown by underlining it,

character

dunt. That he does right who does what, if any one did it, would benefit humanity? -
That there is no ground, which I can disprove, say that if every one had a pl'tee, subscriptions to the Daily Mail. (P.)

Letters and Telegrams: BOLESKINE FOYERS is sufficient address
Bills, Writs, Summonses, etc.: CAMP XI, THE BALTORO GLACIER, BALTISTAN

O Millionaire!
Mr. Editor!
Dear Mrs. Eddy,
Your Holiness the Pope!
Your Imperial Majesty!
Your Majesty!
Your Royal Highness!
Dear Miss Corelli,
Your Serene Highness!
My lord Cardinal,
My lord Archbishop,
My lord Duke,

My lord Marquis!
My lord Viscount,
My lord Earl,
My lord,
My lord bishop,
Reverend sir,
Sir,
Fellow,
Dog!
Mr. Congressman,
Mr. Senator,
Mr. President,

(or the feminine of any of these), as shown by underlining it,

Courtesy demands, in view of the

- (a) tribute to your genius
- (b) attack on your (1) political
 - (2) moral
 - (3) social
 - (4) mental
 - (5) physical
- (c) homage to your grandeur
- (d) reference to your conduct
- (e) appeal to your better feelings

on page of my masterpiece, "The Sword of Song," that I should send you a copy, as I do herewith, to give you an opportunity of defending yourself against my monstrous assertions, thanking me for the advertisement, or — in short, replying as may best seem to you to suit the case. I may add that there can be only one opinion as to part of your duty, i.e., you ought to subscribe to the Society for the Propagation of Religious Truth,¹ and thus aid its noble efforts to get a little sense into the average British or American brain.

Your humble, obedient servant,

ALEISTER CROWLEY.

¹ By whom "The Sword of Song" is published.

Pamphlets & Prospectuses by A.C.

(these are not fully catalogued & should be collated with G.J.Y.'s list of Crowley, etc.)

