Of course, I would just love some Abraham Lincoln because -

I am very greatly distressed by the cruise affairs, have taken the worst is, that it is sheer idiocy. The Germans claim that I have a good brain - but they have layed at my advice on two critical occasions -

1. Teaching that July-Aug '29. I urged to sell all U.S.A. stock & buy mortgages - $50,000. To-day, $15,000 could buy back that stock.

2. When Alfonso quit. I went instantly to them, told them what was bound to happen - I knew Spain so well & urged them to receive the balance left from the previous politicians - about $100,000 - & to sell Pesetas. We could have made at least $20,000 profit on the deal - at 2/6 (2) I know I can't keep accounts like a clerk at use - 25% a week; but I have a knowledge of the how to take world, and of the trend of things, and I know the theory of how to take advantage of it. Bankers & such can do the rest.

You won't take this seriously, I suppose; but I can't deny the facts; and if you could only see my mind with a clear eye, unprejudiced by your ideas of my 'extravagance', we could really do something.

Especially in the world as it is to-day,
 full of bewildered sheep; a really sharp intelligence can make a fortune.

Why didn't I make one in the last few months? Vide supra! And every plan I make is thwarted by ty for reasons which are plain.

to me & Dr Paul Thorpe! (Give her my love, by the way.)

I believe that the weakness of the financial genius is that he forgets about the money he happens to have; just puts it safely away, & goes all out after other people's. The Cora type thinks of the cash in hand, & so it disappears automatically.

Well, I must be off —
