in a business-like way throughout, we should have pulled things off long ago. It was your negligence in looking after the Mandrake, and your scuttling off to Africa as soon as things looked grim there, that sent us West.

Personally I'm not interested in vague possibilities of raising cash from people whom I have personally offered before without success. I am interested in getting you to toe the line. I expect to hear from the B in Stockholm by 24 at latest. I do not think you are particularly expert in avoiding "giving pain to other people" What really hurt your family is that you always allowed them to despise you.
If you were to turn over a new leaf and act in a loyal, honorable, and courageous way, they would thank me for having kicked you into it. 93<sup>13</sup>/<sub>93</sub> F. by 666.

Dear Slippy Joe (a good 30-80 words!)

The rotten part of it is not that you should do a trifling kindness to Bill in return for her devotion to, and affection for, you, though I can understand your saying so.

The rotten part is coming. And it has nothing to do with consuls and smashes of my life's work. No, you should read Emit's ideas. Observe (he says) how in this whole affair nothing that we expected came to pass, but just exactly all that we did not expect!

Do you really suppose that I let Bill go to London without having a perfectly definite plan of campaign? I wish you were a chess-player of other than the happy-go-lucky or worse the next kind. I assure you that my silence is extremely fertile. And I do think that it is perfectly sickeningly disgusting of you to inflict such totally unnecessary pain on those who should by Victorian standards be nearest and dearest to you.

However, nothing can be done about it until I hear from Stockholm; and I bet I'm in for a bit of a trying myself!
 I blame myself severely for ever having fallen in with your worldly-wise ideas of policy.

Now I do want to lean in to you which, if Dennis had not stopped you, would have landed you in jail, of paying from the

(2) Fran Schönheim has left Berlin <sup>placens</sup>

(3) I arrange matters with Fritz S. (her son.)

(4) I send the money, not telegraphically as ordered, by post.

(5) It arrives: all the Schönheimers have departed for "foreign parts"

(6) I have hell's own job to find any one to receive the money. It's really a pity he's an honest man - and also a pity that some others are not.

(7) Here is a perfectly simple transaction, and you mess it all up incredibly by injecting the poison of your perversions.

(8) You had really better read through your

Talking of records, I wish you'd get that thing

Coleridge would have said. There's oddle

You cannot deny that you promised this money; your negotiations with Hobbs & Byford - if they were sincere - as I trust - show to what lengths you were prepared

I have made arrangements with Inow I.W.C. to come here + take charge; and I will start for London at once if I had the actual fare.

I cannot leave Bill alone any longer. She was so confident of immediate success when she started; now she seems to have had all her morale.

Cable me £20 and I'll take the first train - stopping off at Cologne for a day to see Walter.

I will not write this at all if Bill's last letter were not so terrible.

importance of the thing that I want is that it is mine!

It is not a matter of money, but of the will - I want it because I want it, and I will have it.

But you say that the world is not a place for such people.

But the world is just as it is, there are many good things in it, and you can live on it if you will. You will, I hope, take care to be happy in your own way.

It is not a matter of money, but of the will - I want it because I want it, and I will have it.

Yours truly,
[Signature]

4) It is useless to keep on bleating that you haven't the money, because you have. (Look out for inquiries, by the way, about that proposed trust swindle!)

You have got to do what you are sworn to do if I had $100,000 I should use the same to push you through the ordeal.

But the lawsuits you let us in for, there now nothing urgent here. I can live about RM 3 a day. Meanwhile, take care of Bill: my saving her is just as important as a symbol to my present working as my saving you

So glad Bill is better - I have been frightfully worried about her.

How senseless to be there yourself at the Deborah dinner! That was a woman's palaver, if ever there was one - I can understand your reasons, if you had any. If not - oh well!

£7.10.0 (What about those noble principles?)

The sun was unfortunate - see The Hunting of the Snake for what happened!

Of course Bill wouldn't leave me. She couldn't be away now if you <sup>to give it in</sup> hadn't forced her to go to London.

While, here, Roosevelt & I have quite a lot of mis in the fire. If only Montgomery Evans would save one for a week, he'd pretty sure he could fix up a content in fire. With something Fingible also that in my hand, I'd sure be like a shot.

For I could then splunk the by people with pretty to knock me. Get him at the office & female him...

Why? you wouldn't write not about "threats" <sup>W.H.</sup>

Every letter you write threatens me with carnals

d. Stimulation + W.T.A. unless I do what you say!

What threat, any old way? I know. You're kidding!

The main trouble with you is that you couldn't of life have us forced you to take things seriously. You seem to think that's an amusing topic for tea during the 1930's humor nights

What of all, you are so damned well meaning. Like a such people, you came out full money to yourself & that

But I assure you that your vicarious (sic) is due to this don't care attitude to life. Only the Order can pull you out of this, and it's not my fault if the W. enters the area you lose. Ray had damaged land a mile! 1937 F: 4, 608

Maria is very good, not asking for her wages. But I don't like the way she talks, and she is a little bit like a woman that I don't like.

You have got a gift! Schmidt was so tickled by your letter that he was sweet as honey, and stood me a couple of drinks!!

But the Meller business is in a bad way without you. Meller went down with me to Kindred & had a long talk. Wallas postponed till July 5.

It's time I ought to be over for people like Norman Harris
- who seems to be the sort that might do a whole lot.

But I don't trust Lloyd one inch. Under that stolid placid mask is a vain dishonest Welshman

God! it's damn dull here without you.

Not a carving-knife to be seen for miles!

The difficulty about Goble is that he is such a hysterical woman, and less inquisition than a lump of shit. He simply can't act

Bill tells me that Dennis has £20 available.

Please have him cable me this amount instantly on receipt of this letter.

The rent must be paid at once, for both May & June. It really needs £33 approx. If you can raise that, so much the better.

I have practically no cash left, having paid to talk business, and Knowles refused point blank.

You yourself note that he described me as a "fraud" - though God knows why. The bastard pay - the broker things and telephone so we have only - 250k left I have to pay the servant out of that and her insurance.
